EMILY MCVICKER

Emily McVicker is a musical force! Her one woman show was born out of necessity and a drive to share her music and connect with her community. She comes from a variety of styles and various types of performance from Theatre, to a cappella, to party bands. Her list of repertoire is vast, but her joy comes from writing her own music with her quirky and unique perspective.

You can find her live Tuesdays, Fridays, & Sundays at Twitch.tv/EmilyMcVicker

“Beyond a musician, she is a magician. She’s a jukebox and versatile like a Swiss Army Knife, with tools ranging from Lorde’s swells to Amy Winehouse’s bops to Stevie Wonder’s grip.”
-Jake Uitti (Artist Home)

“Emily is a talented and engaging multi-instrumentalist and singer. Kills on stage. Cannot recommend her enough.”
-Owen Miller (Supervisor of Music Prog. Development, Carnival Cruise Lines)

Emily McVicker is a soulful and dynamic performer and songwriter based out Seattle, WA. With a flare for theatrics and a bit of comedy, she aims to inspire and bring communities together through love of music.

Background:
Emily grew up in Seattle Washington, and went to school at Point Park University (Pittsburgh, PA) to study music and theatre. With her knack for harmony and beat-boxing, she sang in an a cappella show at Hershey Park group for summers. Emily moved to New York for a short while before setting sail onboard Carnival Cruise Lines. She sailed around the Caribbean, Mexican Riviera, and Australia performing over 500 songs in the band. This is where she started writing her own music and telling stories to express her own experiences.

Today, Emily is based out of Seattle and tours around the United States as a one woman show playing festivals, events, and concerts. You can also find her on Twitch.tv/EmilyMcVicker streaming music live from her living room (Sundays, Tuesdays, & Fridays)
